A Wild, Burning Itch that Strikes with a Thousand Electric Needles.

Editor Altoona Pa. Call

I wish to say something in praise of that valuable medicine CUTICURA which I saw advertised in your paper I have had that old leprosy of which you read in the Bible where the Jews first got it among them and did not know how to cure it. It has many other English names. I have had it on my body for over sixty years.

NO DOCTOR COULD TELL

Me what it was, and probably I never would have known had I not seen the advertisement in your valuable paper First it is a scaly affection of the skin next it looks like barnacles on a vessel's bottom, or an old log that has laid in the water for a long time and just the same in my feet, knees and elbows and by taking a microscope and looking at me it looks worse In other words, we call it

ICHTHYOSIS, OR FISH SKIN:

Then comes on what I call the wild burning itch that will strike you with a thousand electric itchy needles. You cannot tell where to scratch first. You then have to run out into the open air to get relieved. Why it is dreadful, and having so many eminent doctors and none knowing what to do for you, but I have found the lost treasure at last It did not take two spoonsful of the before it took that burning itch by the throat and all them hold off, and it is off. My flesh is becoming softer, my hair is becoming soft and silky and I then got to using external applications—CUTICURA SOAP and anoint the parts with CUTICURA If the thousands knew the goodness of this medicine as I do they would not be twenty four hours without it. It is not only adapted to my case but to all others, and if any one disbelieves this let him stop next door to the Logan House here take my microscope and send for Hinkold.

The Nation's Dead Transferred to Albany.

THE EXERCISES AT MT. M'GREGOR

How the Sad Journey was Made from the Mountain to the Valley—The Remains now Resting at the Capitol.

MT MCGREGOR Aug 4—On the mountain brow by the eastern lookout a gun boomed sullenly at 4 o'clock this morning The shock of the vibrations was yet on the heavy air when a second report shook the earth and startled the birds in the trees The artillery men had begun firing thirteen guns to mark the sunrise of General Grant's last day upon the mountain In quick succession and at short intervals the guns were fired The rain had stopped but the mist still concealed the valley The soldiers received orders to break camp, and in less than twenty minutes all the tents had disappeared from among the trees and were packed away in boxes for shipment Notwithstanding the heavy and continuous rain of the night the soldiers slept well and were comfortable Down on the mountain side at 6 o'clock bugles were sounding the reveille and as the strains floated over the mountain they were swallowed up in the booming of the gun that will be fired every half hour through the day and at sunset they will close with thirty eight volleys. The mountain train at 6 o'clock had begun bringing up people. The funeral car to carry the remains from the mountain to Saratoga came up early from where it lay waiting last night The family had taken their final farewell of the remains of the dead general and to-day they gave up his body to the nation At 9 o'clock the family, except Mrs Grant, repaired to the hotel for breakfast On their return Colonel Grant and his wife, with Mrs Sartoris paused upon the ridge at the rear of the cottage and among the pines to scan the bright picture of the mountain and valley and then the family entered the cottage and preparations began for the funeral journey

At half past 8 o'clock the doors of the cottage were thrown open and a stream of visitors poured in steadily for over an hour About 9 o'clock the head of the long line of buggies wagons, omnibuses and various kinds of vehicles appeared climbing up the steep incline near the eastern outlook and soon the area in the vicinity of the cottage was thronged with horses and wagons and farmers with their wives and families. At 9 10 a train of two cars brought General Hancock and a number of distinguished visitors The two companies of regulars were drawn up to receive them They proceeded from the station to the cottage in the following order General Hancock and Colonel Jones Admiral Rowan and General Sherman, Senator Evarts and General Rufus Ingalls, Senator Miller and James W Drexel, and General Hancock's staff At 10 o'clock services were held at the cottage in the presence of over a thousand persons. Camp chairs and rustic seats were provided for the ladies under the trees in the grove The ceremonies opened with the reading of psalm No 90 which was followed by an impressive prayer by Rev Bishop Harris. The hymn "My faith looks up to thee" was joined in by the whole assembly present with fine effect.

DR NEWMAN'S ADDRESS

Dr Newman then delivered the sermon, the family sitting, in the meantime, about the remains in the parlor He spoke very feelingly in his address, which consumed one hour and a half in its delivery He took as his text the twenty first verse of the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew "Well done thou good and faithful servant enter thou into the joy of thy Lord

"Such my brethren," said the speaker "is the eulogy that God shall pronounce upon human goodness and fidelity wherever found among the sons of men"

"Some comrade in arms will speak of the splendor of the martial genius of the dead, some statesman will review the majesty of his civil administration historians will place him on the pedestal of his renown, but let me," said the speaker "as a minister of religion, dwell upon that great character which will ever be his crown of glory and the imperishable heritage of the country he loved so well

The minister then dwelt upon the honors which were bestowed upon him and the homage which was done his memory and declared that the secret of his power over the thoughts of the world and the love of mankind was his loftiness of character and grandeur of intellect and the fact that he was none other than himself He was one of the few men in history who exceeded expectation, by doing what all others had failed to do He had no hatred in his heart His holy evangel to the nation was 'Let us have peace' and in his dying chamber he had grasped the hand of him whose sword was the first he had won As illustrative of this broad spirit the sorrow at his death is national to-day in its broadest sense Duty to his conscience, his country and his God was his standard of successful manhood He was the humblest of men and a lover of the most lowly His love of wife, children and home was supreme

Speaking of the deep and tender affection he bore his wife, the speaker said 'And that such was the tenderness of his love and solicitude for her and hers appears by a letter found after his death. He had written it secretly and carried the sacred missive day after day during fourteen days knowing she would find it at last'

He quoted from the letter as follows Look after our dear children and direct them in paths of rectitude It would distress me far more to think that one of them would depart from an honorable upright and virtuous life than it would to know they were prostrated on a bed of sickness from which they were never to arise alive. They have never given us any cause for alarm on their account and I earnestly pray they never will With these few injunctions and the knowledge I have of your love and affection and of the dutiful affection of our children I bid you a final farewell until we meet in another and I trust a better world You will find this on my person after my demise

This was dated Mount McGregor July 9 1885

Dr Newman continuing said The principles of Christianity were deeply engrafted upon the spirit of General Grant On the 18th of April last he said I believe in the holy scriptures and who so lives by them will be benefited Men may differ as to interpretation but the scriptures are man's best guide He held broad religious views and believed in the kinship of all mankind

The closing portion of the address was devoted to a description of the last hours of the general's life his calm fortitude unwavering patience and clear brain, knowing that death was near and praying for its coming

At the conclusion of the discourse the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee" was rendered impressively by the congregation The services ended with the benediction.

THE FUNERAL TRAIN

After the services ended there was a movement of the people toward the cottage to get a final look at the corpse but it was not deemed advisable to admit any one in view of the fact that it was near the time for the funeral train to start General Sherman General Hancock and Senator Evarts left the balcony together Mrs Grant had concluded not to go with the funeral train but to wait until [illegible] when she and the other ladies of the family will leave for Saratoga and from there [illegible] to New York

The great crowd which had attended the services [illegible] the cottage remained to see the body brought out by the main entrance It was borne down the steps by Grant post of Brooklyn, composed of thirteen veterans and was preceded by a detachment of soldiers and two bugles, playing the "Dead March in Saul" General Sherman and Colonel Fred Grant and Jesse and Ulysses Grant walked two by two in advance Then came General Frederick Dent a brother of Mrs Grant and Dr Sharpe, brother in law of Mrs Grant General J A Creswell and the Mexican minister Senor Romero a detachment of artillery with arms reversed marching as infantry General Hancock and staff Senators Evarts and Miller General Horace Porter Thomas Ochiltree of Texas Dr Douglas General Rufus Ingalls Admiral Rowan and many friends of the General Arrived at the station there was another great crowd and after some little time spent in getting the passengers on board the train consisting of six cars left for Saratoga

AT SARATOGA

SARATOGA Aug 4—The funeral train arrived here at 1 50 P M and left for Albany at 2 10 P M Coming down the mountain the train entered Saratoga and drew alongside the tracks of the Delaware and Hudson River railway on which stood the funeral train of the New York Central road waiting. While thousands of persons were being held back by the military the mountain train drew alongside the other train and stopped. There were nine cars in the New York Central train Next to the engine and the funeral car "Woodlawn" The other cars were occupied as follows Car No 3 the clergy and Dr Douglas third the sons and the notable mourners fourth General Hancock and staff fifth Governor Hill and staff sixth the press, seventh and eighth the military escort ninth the baggage The remains were lifted in silence by the guard of honor to the car "Woodlawn" which was draped with black and hung with flags, and the funeral parties were transferred to their respective cars which were all trimmed in plain black The Brooklyn guard of honor and seven men of the Loyal Legion with a detachment of regulars entered the dead car also two men of Wheeler Post, G A R Soon after 2 o'clock the impressive and heavy train moved through the throngs and away from Saratoga.

Mrs Grant concludes not to go to New York to-day and will not probably leave here till Friday next The other female members of the family on account of this determination of Mrs Grant have not made up their minds whether they will go out this evening or not

AT ALBANY

ALBANY, Aug. 4.—The funeral train arrived here at 3 45 P. M

To all on board the funeral train the beautiful drapery of the cars was a subject of comment. No woodwork, except the sashes and windows, was visible. The engine and tender were draped with plaited black, radiating from a rosette center, The sides of the cab were covered in like manner. Black cloth was draped from the boiler rails, and the front was fixed with taste The funeral car 'Woodlawn' was draped in panels and centers and the national flag was festooned gracefully but so that there was no fluttering The other cars were not so elaborately finished, but all were draped with good taste Two thousand seven hundred yards of cloth were used The train had been prepared under direction of Mr D M Kendrick, general passenger agent of the New York Central road, who will accompany the train to New York

The starting of the train from Saratoga was almost imperceptible, so slowly was it done At the rate of eight or ten miles per hour the train moved eastward out of Saratoga At every street crossing on every veranda and balcony all vantage ground for observation was taken up The bells in the steeples of Saratoga tolled as the black train trailed slowly out of the village toward Albany.

The clock tower dial in Saratoga indicated 2 10 o'clock as the train passed through the suburbs Twenty five minutes later the train pulled slowly into Ballston About the depot were throngs of men and women Church bells were slowly tolling and a field piece near the depot saluted the train High street was passed at 2 38 P M and East Line four minutes later The train was quickening its speed

THE FUNERAL CAR

In the funeral car were U S Grant post who were with the remains, mounting guard at the casket, the remains resting upon a black dais and the compartment in which they are communicating with the main saloon by folding doors, which were open The doors at the sides of the funeral compartment were also open and the afternoon sun light shone upon the royal purple velvet and the silver mountings of the casket The first and each succeeding detail mounted on guard, consisted of two men, of U S Grant post One stood with folded arms at the head of the casket and the other at the foot The first guard was mounted as Ballston was being passed

Round Lake Rev Dr Newman's summer home was passed at 2 48 o'clock The depot platform fences and fronts of cottages in the grove were black with mourning drapery The resident population of the resort formed lines of uncovered heads on each side of the tracks, and scarfs of mourning were fluttered by many ladies in the throng as the sombre train moved by

The hamlet of Coons was left behind at 2 5[illegible] o'clock At Mechanicsville only five minutes [illegible] the sound of village bells came faintly above the rumble of the train, and signals of grief were displayed.

Waterford Junction was passed at 3:01 and between there and West Waterford which was three minutes beyond a train going in the opposite direction slowed and halted as the funeral train approached

Cohoes at 3:[illegible]2 when the black train rolled through had emptied its factories and workshops, its stores and its homes and everybody had crowded to the track and near by buildings to see the train that bore the dead general and ex president

West Troy was passed at 3 28 P M, and the heavy, black draped train rolled into Albany at 3 40 o'clock on time, as per special schedule

Superintendent Voorhees of the Delaware and Hudson road, stepped down from the cab of the engine "From the first movement of the train from Saratoga to this instant," he remarked to one who had ridden on the train, "you have heard no sound from bell or whistle" It was true.

THE RECEPTION

Colonel Grant, Jesse and U S Grant Jr alighted first from the funeral train when it had stopped at the foot of Spencer street in Albany Governor Hill took the first upon his arm, Assistant Adjutant General McEwen the second and Colonel Gillette the third Rev Dr Newman, Dr Douglas and General Sherman followed with General Porter The party was at once escorted to carriages and driven to the governor's mansion

Before the remains were removed Governor Hill and other officers returned to the train, and there greeted General Hancock and staff who were at the moment alighting from the car they had occupied The remains were placed within a mounted catafalque six black horses with black trappings were hitched to the funeral car, and at the head of each horse its leaders were members of G A R posts 5 and 121 The crowd was dense The remains having been deposited on the funeral car it was drawn out into Spencer street where it was flanked by Company A Fifth artillery and Company F Twelfth infantry Grand Army men guarded the remains at the posts of honor and four men of the Tenth battalion were mounted at each corner of the catafalque

General Hancock and staff filed out into Spencer street where the General was mounted on a powerful black horse splendidly caparisoned Organizations to take part in the procession were waiting in various streets along the line of march and assumed their assigned positions in the procession as the head moved on

There were 4311 men in the procession Many companies outside of Albany and its vicinity were present and joined in the procession The column moved through North Pearl street to State then to Eagle street then to Washington Avenue then to Knox street then to State street and then to the Capitol

IN THE CAPITOL

General Hancock dismounted and retired and the remains were deposited beneath the great catafalque in the senate corridor Before being so placed the body was conveyed to a private room in the capitol building where undertakers and embalmers removed the lid of the casket to inspect the body and learn its condition after the journey from the mountain. They said they found the remains in excellent condition

The public was admitted finally about 5 o'clock P M being permitted to walk two abreast on each side of the casket which lay on an inclined dais Seven thousand four hundred people viewed the remains the first hour

U S Grant post of Brooklyn, has 12 men waiting here and details of six men on each side of the casket kept the throng moving Details for guard duty will be relieved by members of three respective organizations at intervals of two hours each until the remains are again moved

Company D, fifth battalion under command of Captain Stackpoole was placed on duty in the corridor to stand guard until midnight when it was relieved for six hours by Company D same battalion

TO DAY'S PROGRAMME

The remains will lie in state in the capitol continuously until 10 30 A M to-morrow when the doors will be closed At 11 the funeral procession will be again formed and the remains will be transferred from the catafalque to the funeral car at the state street entrance to the capitol and be escorted down State street to Broadway up Broadway and Steuben street and thence to the Central railroad depot At 1 20 P M a pilot engine will leave Albany and run ten minutes ahead of schedule time for the funeral train in New York having the same rights The funeral train will leave the depot here at 12 30 P M, arriving at the Grand Central depot, New York at [illegible] P M according to published schedule

The senate and assembly met this afternoon and appointed a joint commission to prepare a suitable memorial and subsequently both houses took part in the procession

Late this evening Colonel Grant Jesse and U S Grant accompanied by Governor Hill and others entered the capitol The throng of visitors was checked for the time and the general's sons passed beneath and halted briefly to view the remains of their father A cluster of eight incandescent lamps shed a brilliant light down on the dead face and revealed a startling spectacle The skin of the face has the appearance of having been mottled [illegible] bungling manner The skin has a ghastly hue and has a scaly appearance This is explained as due to the fact that the face was powdered late this afternoon and without reference to the probable effect of the brilliant light to which the remains are now for the first time subjected The powder will be removed in the morning

SACRED CONCERT

An immense throng of people numbering about 10 000 assembled to-night in the park facing the capitol to hear a sacred concert on a great scale to which about twenty associations contributed The song "Nearer My God to Thee" and other sacred hymns were rendered with very impressive effect

It was at an advanced hour of the night when the multitude dispersed

MRS GRANT

A dispatch received here says that Mrs Grant left Mt McGregor for New York late last evening.

THE PROGRAMME AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK Aug 4—The procession from the Grand Central depot to the city hall will be made as follows General Hancock and staff United States and battalion of foot artillery four companies of infantry two companies of marines two battalions of blue jackets General Hale and staff second battery, Brigadier General Ward and staff first brigade of the first division of the national guard, headed by the Twenty second regiment one hundred citizens in carriages Catafalque, guard of honor Brigadier General Fitzgerald and staff second brigade of the first division of the national guard headed by the Seventh regiment

Ex President R B Hayes telegraphed to Generals Aspinwall and Sickles to-day that he would be in New York on Thursday He expressed thanks for the attention shown to him General Hancock will notify the G A R organization through the press Thursday of the positions they shall occupy

THE PRESIDENT'S PLANS

WASHINGTON Aug 4—At the cabinet meeting to-day the programme for the president's movements during the summer was also considered. It was arranged that the president and all members of his cabinet would leave Washington Friday afternoon for New York to participate in the ceremonies attending the funeral of General Grant, and that immediately after their conclusion the president, accompanied by Colonel Lamont, would go to Albany and remain until Monday, on which day he would start for the Adirondack mountains. Dr. Ward of Albany will go with him to the mountains and probably Colonel Lamont also The president does not expect to return to Washington before the 10th of September and will attend to only such business during his absence as may be brought to his attention by members of the cabinet one or more of whom will remain in Washington. Nothing will be sent to him except such as requires immediate action on his part All members of the cabinet except Secretary Manning will return to Washington after the funeral Secretary Manning will proceed direct from New York to Watch Hill Conn, where he spends several weeks

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON Aug 4—Secretary Endicott to-day issued an order directing chiefs of bureaus of the war department who are army officers to attend the funeral of General Grant

General Sherman and staff left Washington for New York this evening

IN ENGLAND

Imposing Memorial Services held in Westminster Abbey in Honor of General Grant.

LONDON Aug 4—The Grant memorial services in Westminster abbey this afternoon was an imposing event added to the history of England The edifice was crowded with a congregation, nearly every member of which was a distinguished person The order of service was as follows

1 Schubert's funeral march
2 Funeral procession up the nave of the cathedral to the choir
3 The opening of burial service
4 The 90th psalm
The day's service
6 Funeral sermon by Canon Farrar
Spohr's anthem Blest are the Departed
8 Handel's anthem His body is Buried in Peace
9 Two concluding prayers
10 The burial service
11 Blessings
12 The Dead March in Saul

CANON FARRAR'S ADDRESS

Canon Farrar delivered a most impressive address which was heard in profound silence His text was taken from Acts chapter 13 verse 36 "Eight years have not passed since the late Dean Stanley whom Americans so loved and honored was walking around this abbey with General Grant explaining its wealth of great memorials. Neither of them had in truth attained the allotted span of human life Both might have hoped for many years would elapse before descending to the grave full of years and honors. This is only the fourth summer since Dean Stanley fell asleep To-day we assemble at the obsequies of the great general whose sun set while it was yet day and whose funeral service in America tells thousands who are assembled at this moment to mourn with the weeping family and friends I desire to speak plainly and directly with generous appreciation but without idle flattery of him whose death has made a nation mourn His private life, his faults or failings of character whatever they may have been belong in no sense to the world They are before the judgment of God's merciful forgiveness We will touch only upon his public actions and services Upon a bluff overlooking the Hudson his monument will stand recalling to future generations the dark pages in the nation's history which he did so much to close

FROM OBSCURITY TO FAME.

After eloquently tracing General Grant's boyhood and manhood the speaker said: "If the men who knew him in Galena, obscure, silent, unprosperous unambitious, had said if any one had predicted that he would become twice president and the foremost man of the day the prophecy would have seemed ridiculous but such careers are the glory of the American continent They show that the people have a sovereign insight into intrinsic force If Rome told with pride that her dictators came from the plow America may record the answer of a president, who when asked what would be his coat of arms answered proudly, mindful of his early struggles 'A pair of shirt sleeves' The answer showed a noble sense of the dignity of labor, a noble superiority to the vanities of feudalism, a strong conviction that men should be honored simply as men not according to the accident of birth. America has had two martyred presidents both sons of the people One a homely man, who was a farm laborer, a rail splitter at 22 a Mississippi boatman at 24 and who in manhood proved one of the strongest and most honored of God fearing of modern rulers The other grew from a hopeless child to be a humble teacher in Hiram Institute With those presidents America need not blush to name the leathermaker of Galena. Every true man derives a patent of nobleness direct from God Was not the Lord in early years a carpenter in Nazareth Lincoln's and Garfield's and Grant's early conscientious attention to humble duties fitted them to become kings of men

THE WAR

Continuing the speaker said "The year that saw the outbreak of the most terrible of modern wars The hour came and a man was needed Within four years Grant commanded an army vaster than had ever before been handled by man It was not luck but the results of inflexible faith unless indomitable resolution sleepless energy iron purpose and persistent tenacity He rose by the upward gravitation of natural fitness The very soldiers became imbued with his spirit General Grant has been grossly and unjustly called a butcher He loved peace and hated bloodshed but it was his duty at all costs to save the country He struggled [illegible] was not for victory but for existence not for glory, but for life or death In his silence determination and clearness of insight Grant resembled Washington and Wellington In the hottest fury of battle his speeches never exceeded yea, yea and nay nay The war of 1861 was necessary a blessed work The church has never refused to honor the faithful soldier fighting for the cause of his country and his God The causes for which Grant fought the unity of a great people the freedom of a whole race were as great and noble as when at Lexington the embattled farmers fired the shot which resounded around the world The south accepted a blood arbitrament all the rancor and the fury of the past are buried in oblivion The names of Lee and Jackson will be a common heritage with those of Garfield and Grant Americans are no longer northerners and southerners but Americans

HIS VIRTUES AND HIS FAULTS

What verdict history will pronounce upon Grant as a politician and a man I know not, but now the voice of censure, deserved or undeserved is silent We leave his faults to the memory of the merciful Let us write his virtues in brass or [illegible] whatever they may have been be written on water Who can tell if his closing hours of torture and agony were not blessings in disguise God purging the gold from the dross until the strong [illegible] utterly purified by his strong agony could be gathered in more fitting place There is [illegible] of Am[illegible] memorials here and we add another to-day Whatever there be between the two nations to forget and forgive is forgotten and forgiven If the two peoples which were one be true to their duty who can doubt that the destinies of the world are in their hands Let America and England march in the van of freedom and progress showing the world not only the magnificent spectacle of human happiness but the still more magnificent spectacle of two peoples united by [illegible] righteousness and [illegible] faithful [illegible] law of God

Dr W D Wright, Cincinnati O sends the subjoined professional endorsement I have prescribed DR WM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS in a great number of cases and always with success One case in particular was given up by several physicians who had been called in for consultation with myself. The patient had all the symptoms of confirmed consumption—cold night sweats, hectic fever, harrassing coughs, etc He commenced immediately to get better, and was soon restored to his usual health. I also found DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS the most valuable expectorant for breaking up distressing coughs and colds."

Cattlemen Make Another Appeal to the President.

THEIR PETITION AGAIN DENIED.

General Sheridan Submits his Report on the Indian Troubles in the Southwest—The Cattlemen to Blame

WASHINGTON Aug 4—President Cleveland to-day informed a delegation representing the cattle men that he would not modify his recent order for the removal of cattle from leased lands in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation within forty days from the date of his proclamation The delegation consisting of Senator Cockrell and Representative John M Glover of Missouri E D Hunter C C Rainwater, W B Thompson and H M Pollard of St Louis, Mayor Moore, Seth Mabrey C Wood, J B Bollene and Dr M Munford of Kansas City Mr Torrey of Providence, Rhode Island Colonel H B Denman of Washington and G P Peck of Topeka called at the White house at 1 P M and met the president in the library Senator Cockrell introduced Representative Pollard who presented the president the following memorial in behalf of the parties interested

The lessees of lands in Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation in Indian territory respectfully submit the following facts and memorial

First—We do not doubt that it is the desire of the government to deal equitably with this question in its relation to all parties and those who have occupied territory by lease for two and a half years by permission and authority of the government are entitled to a reasonable period for removal of their property The leases were in every case made with the knowledge of the secretary of the interior were submitted to him and received from him every sanction except the formal and technical affix of his signature and seal

Second—Under these circumstances the lessees of the lands in question have placed upon them a large number of cattle estimated at not less than 250 000 In addition to the value of these cattle we call your attention to further investment in ranges improvements fencing corrals and all the belongings of so extensive a business The aggregate of the value affected by the executive order may therefore be fairly stated at over $7 000,000

Third—The area of land affected by the proposed action is between 300,000 and [illegible]0 000 acres this acreage being stocked to its grazing capacity by the number of animals stated An equal amount of land is required for the subsistence of these animals elsewhere, and in one of the most serious of questions suddenly forced upon us is, where can this amount of land be found in adjacent territory being fully stocked It cannot be found by driving the cattle back to Texas whence many of them came and the remote ranges of Wyoming Montana and Dakota can alone provide for them.

Fourth—It is absolutely impossible to secure and locate lands in these territories within the time allowed were it practicable to find lands supplied with water in those territories not already occupied It is impossible to gather cattle scattered upon the present ranges and move them north at this season of the year Cattle cannot be driven in herds exceeding 3000 and it requires twelve men and sixty horses to handle such a herd It will therefore be seen that to move the entire number of cattle affected by the execution of this order an aggregate force of 1000 men and 5000 horses must be immediately collected This is utterly impossible at this season of the year when range work is at its greatest activity and experienced herdsmen are fully employed We have but few men at the present time, having our ranges enclosed by fence, and not requiring herders

Fifth The drive from the ranges now occupied to new ones in northern territories cannot be made in less than three to four months In moving cattle from their present locations subsistence must be found along the whole line they traverse, and it is well known by cattlemen that at this advanced season of the year the summer heat has seriously impaired the nutritious qualities of the grass and the result must necessarily be that many cattle would perish on the line of march and those that finally reach the northern range would be in such an enfeebled condition as to be unable to withstand the rigors of northern winters to which they will be unaccustomed.

OTHER REASONS

We desire to emphasize this statement by the further facts that the streams and water holes along the trail are all lower at this season than at others and many of them are entirely dry The distance required to be traveled by the cattle to those new ranges in the north is from 800 to 1200 miles The universal custom of those engaged in the business of driving cattle from Indian Territory and Texas northward is to start them in no case later than April Experience has shown that cattle put up on northern range later than August 15, are so reduced by the long drive that they are unable to gain strength to endure the early winter's storms. A large proportion of the cattle affected by this order have been brought into Indian territory this year from Texas, and the quarantine laws of Kansas Colorado and New Mexico rigidly forbid the admission of such cattle into, or their transit across, their territory prior to December 1 We respectfully refer you to the recent proclamation of the governor of Kansas in this connection The above are but a portion of the difficulties which confront us There are other features of the subject which commend themselves to executive consideration, among which is the fact that rentals for all these lands have been paid to the 1st of November of this year No amount of diligence will enable us to gather up all the cattle during the time allowed, and the result must be that the uncollected portion will be left on the range unprotected by their owners and subject to the depredations of Indians.

In conclusion we respectfully state that this memorial is directed not against the policy that has been adopted but against the time that has been allowed in which to conform thereto We only submit that measure of protection to our property which is accorded to other established interests. The enforcement of the order can only result in great injury to ourselves as well as to others with whom we have business relations We therefore respectfully, ask for such time to remove our cattle as the above facts show to be indispensable

The memorial is signed by the Cheyenne and Arrapahoe Company S K Moore Seth Mabrey Newman & Farr S M Biggs James Morrison W J Malaferry the Woodrugby Cattle Company Underwood & Clark, J Fenton, Dickey Bros the Wichita Company Hunter & Evans the Standard Cattle Company and the Berry Cattle Company

Mr Munford, editor of the Kansas City Times was introduced to the president as one who had always opposed the leasing of lands He said that he had been opposed to such practices and was opposed to them now, but business demand that consideration should be given men who were thus forced to leave the reservations Kansas City would be injured by such an order and he said that panic would be the result of the immediate enforcement of the order

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY

This application as I understand it said the president after Mr Munford had seated himself is that cattle be allowed to remain on the reservation until next spring

Colonel Denman representing one of the largest ranches on the reservation replied "We will move it once and make such progress as we can. We ask time [illegible]

The [illegible] representations of these gentlemen said the president. That point is before my eye and it is public interest We have lately seen what fear can be created by thirty or forty Indians within two hours A letter has come to my desk from the governor of Kansas urging that troops on the border of that state should not be withdrawn The highest officer in the army one experienced in Indian affairs reports the situation in the territory and says that the cause of irritation is the presence of cattlemen A section of country containing four and a quarter millions of acres was set apart for the Indians but only one tenth 400,000 acres, is left They are crowded down to the agency Some of this may have been secured with the consent of the Indians. It is apparent to me as it is to you that this state of affairs cannot continue Of the interests that are in conflict which shall give way On one side we have public peace public security and safety of lives on the other side are your interests The former gentlemen, must be considered though private interests suffer The question of putting off this removal until next spring is unadvisable. The order cannot be modified I want to see due diligence in complying with the order Twelve days have passed — precious time is lost An effort was made after the order was issued to secure an extension of the time A dispatch was sent saying [illegible] that the order could not be modified Here you are after twelve days have passed If any indulgence is shown it must be on application in specific cases with evidence that an effort has been made to comply with the order If your interests led you out of the territory instead of in, I cannot help but think you would find some way out in the specified time I ask you would cooperate and take hold in trying to get the cattle off No argument will induce me to change what has been done Some loss and inconvenience will no doubt follow, but there is an interest greater than yours which must receive attention

The delegation upon conclusion of the president's reply, left the executive mansion

"There's cold comfort in his words" said one of the most prominent cattlemen as he walked through the White house grounds to the street

"We walked up and we walked down" replied another

A majority of the delegation started for home to-night They are unanimous that the cattle cannot be removed without great pecuniary loss within the forty days limit.

GENERAL SHERIDAN'S REPORT.

The Cattlemen Responsible for the Indian Discontent in the Southwest.

WASHINGTON Aug 4—Sheridan's report to the president on the result of his recent investigations into the troubles in the Indian territory is made public this evening He says he first sent for Agent Dyer, who said that the Arapahoes were well disposed but were under the influence of the Cheyennes and would be obliged to furnish a contingent of braves in case of hostilities that the Cheyennes were peaceful except twelve hundred represented by Chief Stone Calf who were using no progress toward civilization was being made Dyer thought that to a certain extent the proximity of cattlemen was irritating but that the only way to settle the trouble was to disarm the Indians and awe them into submission by a display of military force

STONE CALF'S COMPLAINTS

General Sheridan next interviewed Stone Calf who represented the disaffected Indians The burden of their complaint was the leasing of their lands, though they had many complaints against the agent and others officially connected with the agency They said that when the leases were made their opposition was manifest whenever consulted or opportunity offered, in the strongest terms They had refused to sign the lease and had never accepted any of the lease money Pressure had been brought to bear upon them but they had resisted and thus there had sprung up a division in the tribe between those who favored and those who opposed the leases and the result was division in their places of living The Stone Calf element had mostly made their homes in the neighborhood of the old military cantonment and the northern fork of the Canadian and Wichita and this country was covered by lease With the lease there came new people and herds of cattle were grazed from one end to the other of their lands They complained that their ponies were stolen their little herds absconded and their garden patches overrun Matters were aggravated by the killing of Running Buffalo by a trespassing horse trader named Horton in May 1884 The Indians became frenzied at this act and it was with great difficulty that a general massacre was averted This discontent and irritation rapidly increased, and from this date peaceful control by the agent ceased Instead of trying to conciliate them the agent became more rigorous, endeavored to set them down on restricted pieces of land and threatened them with militia if they refused obedience They saw in the course of the agent the concentration on a few acres of land and the balance of their reservation practically transferred to cattlemen for a long period of years, if not permanently

A WRONG POLICY

"The Cheyenes," General Sheridan says "are fine specimens of wild Indians and as they still maintain most of their aboriginal customs and loyalty to the romantic habits of the uncivilized, nothing could have been more mistaken than an endeavor to crowd upon them in quick succession the customs of civilization None other than the slowest and most patient processes could succeed with them"

General Sheridan next interviewed a number of those who had signed leases, and gathered that while they had agreed to the leases they had become sick of the bargain It was apparent that the signing had been done in an individual capacity and by the encouragement if not forcible persuasion of the former agent J O Mills, his employe and a large number of interested individuals who lived unlawfully around the agency They now say they made a mistake

General Sheridan then gives a story of the lease He says that the lessees claim that a general council was held in the beginning and that the chiefs and head men, representing 85 per cent of the Indians consented The general says that whatever may be the truth as to this there is no denying the fact that the agency and its surroundings, under Agent Miles worked in behalf of the cattlemen that Miles took formal part as representative of the Indians, and that his name appears in all the leases in his official capacity that whatever their feelings at the first the Indians later on became unfavorable to leasing their lands, and the general hints at doubt as to whether their consent was really obtained to some of the later ones

THE REMEDY

While the whites have angered the Indians the latter have also angered the whites There is no doubt in General Sheridan's mind that the affairs of the reservation should be reorganized There are within the limits too many white people who have no lawful business. All who are not owners and employes, or who are not officially connected with the agency or military posts should be obliged to leave at once

General Sheridan in conclusion, referred to the recommendations he had already made, and which have been made public, and alludes to the appointment of Captain Lee as acting agent, which together with the decision of the president with respect to leases will, he feels confident, end the difficulties so that there need be no further apprehension of an outbreak The Indians, he says, are settling down to the new condition satisfied that the president means to treat them kindly justly and firmly and he has every reason to believe that their future would be one of peaceful prosperity

THE SILVER QUESTION

Why one of the New York Banks Refuses to Consent to the Recent Agreement

NEW YORK Aug 4—The Times says When the officers of the associated banks of this city resolved to advance $6 000 000 in gold to the government in exchange for $6 000 000 of fractional silver they directed the clearing house committee to make an allotment of the amount desired to be issued pro rata among the banks The allotment was made and the National Broadway bank was asked to contribute $85,000 All of the banks promptly paid in their allotted shares except the Broadway bank The directors of that institution had decided not to advance any gold to the government on the terms proposed Palmer, superintendent of the Broadway bank when asked why his bank had declined to contribute its share of the allotment replied The government has not asked banks in this city to exchange $6 000 000 of their gold for the same amount of silver worth about $5 000 000 losing thereby to their stockholders $1 000 000 but such exchange has been made by the banks save one, without authority of the stockholders and directors of the several banks in this city and contrary to the national currency act under which national banks exist If bank presidents can give to the treasurer of the United States $1 000 000 of gold for silver why not give to any other party $100 000 000 in gold for a like amount in silver and lose by such exchange $15 000 000 Our bank has not been a party to this exchange

Parker Handy said Bankers who have advanced gold to the government with only fractional silver for security certainly display a great deal of faith in the honesty of the present administration Fractional silver is coined under the same [illegible] authority [illegible] the coinage of [illegible] The government took away the legal tender quality of the trade dollar, and who knows but that it may take away the legal tender quality of fractional silver

A NEIGHBORHOOD TERRORIZED

An Organized Gang of Negroes Perpetrate Terrible Outrages in Pennsylvania.

HUNTINGTON Penn Aug 4 An organized gang of negroes over eighty in number who came across the mountains have been committing the most terrible outrages in this neighborhood for the past few weeks So terrified are the inhabitants that they will not venture from their houses without being heavily armed and even farmers go well armed to the fields Women fear to leave their homes without a man's protection, and all social intercourse has been practically suspended.

A few evenings ago just before dark the negroes made a descent upon a little tavern kept by John McGarvey and they battered his place almost to pieces and carried off a considerable amount of money whisky tobacco and cigars McGarvey had most of his money concealed [illegible] The negroes suspecting this forced him to disclose the place where it was hidden by torturing him in a most fiendish and brutal manner

After a night of debauchery the negroes crossed the mountains and raided a shop kept by Louis Shaffner They took Shaffner and his delicate wife into the woods, stripped them of all their clothing, and tied them to separate trees leaving them there The negroes then returned to the house and gutted it completely They secured $400 in money besides whisky and tobacco They then returned to their captive and through the remainder of the night forced them to undergo indignities of the most brutal character Mrs Shaffner was unbound and carried further into the woods, where she was found in the morning in a dying condition

The country is alarmed and the greatest excitement prevails Citizens are considering the question of petitioning the governor for military protection

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1885.

EASTERN MOVEMENT BY RAIL.

The low rate made by the Northern Pacific for carriage of wheat from Cheney and other points on its line to Duluth is a real advantage to the people of the eastern section of Washington territory. It gives them a better price for their wheat than they can get by shipping it west, and so will contribute very materially to the development and prosperity of the country. It is proposed that barges be built on Snake river to carry the wheat delivered at points on that stream down to Ainsworth, whence it will be taken by rail to Duluth at the same rate charged from Cheney and other points further up the road. This undertaking seems quite practicable. The plan that gives the producer most for his wheat is the plan for the country. It is pretty certain, too, that the O. R. & N., at all points reached by its boats and cars, will make rates to meet any reduction that it may be necessary to make to hold its own business. It ought, indeed, to go further, and give the upper country at all points as low rates as it can possibly afford.

We do not view with alarm the shipment of wheat from the fields of the Columbia basin to Duluth, instead of to Portland. The prosperity of the producer is the first consideration, the primary indispensable condition to the prosperity of the community. Portland must take care of herself. And she can only take care of herself by lending her influence and aid to the development of the country, which includes the obtainment of the best possible markets for its products.

Perhaps the country may be slow to credit the statement, yet we are sure that it may be seriously questioned whether in the long run, taking all the years together, any money has been made by buyers and shippers of wheat at Portland. At particular times there have been good profits, and at other times prodigious losses. The conditions of the trade here make it a very hazardous business. Distance from the market is so great as to defeat all calculation as to what prices may be by the time cargoes arrive. To ship wheat from Pacific ports to Europe is little else than a gambling enterprise, and during some years past the "luck" has run constantly against the shipper. His grain has arrived at its destination to meet a steadily falling market, upon which prices for some time past have been lower than at any former time for a century. It is no secret that during the last two or three years shippers of grain and flour here have been "hurt" severely.

During years past this paper has frequently taken occasion to point out the fact that the Pacific northwest is most unfavorably situated for shipping wheat to foreign countries. Experience is constantly confirming this judgment. The new fact that wheat can actually be transported by rail to the great lakes from points within two hundred and fifty miles of Pacific tidewater, is another striking proof of it. We are not situated so favorably for this business as California is, nor shall we be for a long period, if ever. The chief reason of this is that San Francisco is a great port, with a world-wide business that brings ships from all quarters. Moreover, California has cheaper inland transportation than we have. The larger volume of business secures lower rates.

If Portland shippers cannot pay so much for wheat as the producer can get from those who buy for Duluth, it is in every way best for the country that its wheat be sold to Duluth buyers; and the more sold the better. Portland is not to be considered in the matter, except in so far as she can make it to the advantage of the country to sell its wheat here. But of course shipments to and from Portland and Astoria will not diminish. On the contrary, they are likely to increase, as the wheat product of the northwest during the next ten or twenty years may be expected to increase largely. We welcome the introduction of the eastern rail movement as a new outlet for our product, and would like to see it grow to great proportions. It is almost certain that the Union Pacific, if it had a line of its own all the way to Chicago, as the Northern Pacific has to Duluth, would play a part in the same business.

The lease of the O. R. & N. lines to the two great transcontinental roads is, however, a fact not to be lost sight of. Those roads will want to make the leased road earn all it can. It is not likely, therefore, that they will enter its field so far as to divert from it business which it would naturally do. Portland, consequently, will still receive the greater part of the wheat of the eastern empire.

Improvement of the navigation of the Columbia river throughout its course in eastern Washington is believed to be practicable. There is a great wheat district in the Big Bend and Okanagan region, now filling rapidly with settlers. The Okanagan river could also be made navigable, and would afford transportation for a large country. These improvements, we are told, could be made in a short time and at comparatively small cost. The subject ought to receive attention. For transportation of the products of these more remote places, including those of Snake river, the opening of the Columbia throughout its whole course would be an especial advantage. The discouraging feature is the length of time it will require to make the channels at the Cascades and The Dalles. Whenever an appropriation bill fails, as was the case at the last session of congress, the result is further postponement of work, for the completion of which the people feel a growing impatience. Though the Columbia river never will be the main channel of transportation for the products of the eastern country, yet if its navigation from the sea to the Canadian line were made practicable, as it surely will be in time, there would be an increasing benefit to a large region, the greater part of which has no other promise of transportation.

Undoubtedly the bulk of the products of the great water-shed of the Columbia will always be moved toward the west. Facilities and rates of transportation will be arranged to meet this requirement. But a small part of the wheat of the Columbia region, in comparison with the whole product, will ever be moved east by rail. The amount moved will be limited to the number of cars that otherwise would be hauled back empty, and this number is not likely to be more than five or ten a day for the present year. If the Northern Pacific shall carry 30,000 or 40,000 tons of wheat of the present crop from eastern Washington to Duluth, it will perhaps be the limit. We could wish it were much more, so long as the producer could get more for wheat to go that way than if it were sold for shipment to Portland.

ENGLAND'S BREADSTUFFS SUPPLY.

The prospects, so far as they are calculable, point to another season of low prices for wheat this fall. It is not expected that the bed-rock figures of last year will be matched, but farmers will most likely have to accept much less than the standard, "dollar a bushel," of seasons past. The deficit resulting from a partial failure in the northwestern states and in California which, it has been thought, would materially lessen the European supply and so advance prices, appears to be made up fully by increased production in India and Russia, and will scarcely affect the great markets to an appreciable degree. It is believed that America can never again control the European grain markets, excepting, perhaps, at an extraordinary time of war not likely to occur. The sources of supply are now so various and so widely separated that disaster of climate or even of war is not likely to affect all at the same time. England now draws wheat from India, from Egypt, from Russia, from Chili and from three distinct sections of the United States. Failure of one or two of these sources for a single season is scarcely felt at all.

The bread problem is the serious one in England and the manner of providing breadstuffs has long been a subject of government attention. The idea of wheat production in India did not originate with the people of India, but with the British government. Its practicability having been demonstrated, the government set about to promote production with the distinct purpose of securing a cheaper bread supply. This it has succeeded in doing. Wheat can be produced cheaper in India than in America because the cost of labor in the former country is almost nothing. The area which can be devoted to wheat is enormous. The great obstacle to production has been the isolation of the grain districts, but the government is building railroads expressly to facilitate wheat carriage and the increase in production is in proportion to their extension.

The development of Indian breadstuffs production has become an item of settled British policy. It goes on steadily and there is a corresponding steady decline in the price of wheat in consequence. There is reason to fear that further spread of railroads in India and consequent increase of wheat production will, in the course of a few years, put the price down to such figures that the United States, or at least sections so far away as Oregon and California cannot compete and will be compelled to withdraw from the English market.

There is another element in this situation. England now controls Egypt and has the best of reasons for desiring to increase the productive business of that country. This reason with the desire to be free from the necessity of buying bread in America, may lead her to apply in Egypt the principles which have succeeded in India. Wheat farming is capable of great expansion in Egypt as in India.

These are mere matters of speculation at the present time, but there is something more than possibility in them. It will certainly be easy for England to supply herself from her dependencies of India and Egypt, and she is pursuing a course, which, if continued, will lead to this result. Only a slight further advance will make the "dollar a bushel" of the Oregon farmer a tradition.

CONFEDERATE AND EX-CONFEDERATE.

Democrats of Virginia, in their platform, arraign with as great severity as possible those ex-confederates who have become adherents of the republican party. This is the species of treason that the confederates regard as especially odious. It was bad enough when the ex-confederates called themselves readjusters, but now, since they have accepted the name of republicans, they are the "enemies" of Virginia, and must be "ridden down." With much asperity and lofty scorn the confederates say of the ex-confederates: "They were at first allies, they now proclaim themselves full and accepted members, of the national republican party. Patriotic voters of the commonwealth will never surrender its doctrines to that party of sectional hate and constitutional heresy."

"Sectional hate and constitutional heresy" is expressive. In the light of history its definition is clear. The republican party is the party of sectional hate, because it was the instrument through which the extension of slavery was first arrested and slavery afterward abolished; because it was the party that represented the purpose of the people in suppression of the rebellion and directed the government during that struggle; because it was the party after the war that urged and forced acceptance of the principle of equal civil and political rights, and because it is now the party that protests against the violation of that principle. This is the record that makes it the party of "sectional hate." It is the party of "constitutional heresy" because it denied the dogmas of Jeffersonian democracy, and refused to accept the confederate interpretation of the constitution; which interpretation, in the creed of these Virginians, is constitutional orthodoxy.

There is to be a "high pressure" political fight in Virginia. It is confederate against ex-confederate, and the contest in many of its features will be the most notable of the present year.

By way of assuring and convincing everybody that wheat can be boated from Portland to Astoria for less than $1 per ton, the Astorian says that in 1882 the Astoria Transportation Company demonstrated that it could be boated at a cost of 37½ cents per ton. We do not contradict this, and yet we must say we are astonished to find that the Astoria Transportation Company is not still pursuing a business which it must have found so very profitable. THE OREGONIAN has stated that "the least money for which wheat could be carried in boats from Portland to Astoria is one dollar per ton." But here is the Astorian saying that a transportation company of that city demonstrated that fact the it could be carried for three-eighths of that sum. This would leave five-eighths for profit; and what we marvel at is that the Astoria Transportation Company did not continue right along in business. Or, if it "sold out" basely, as has been intimated, there remains the wonder why some other transportation company of Astoria or Portland does not go into it. The river is a free highway, and according to the Astorian's figures, there is a profit to be made of $120,000 to $150,000 in a single year. This, for hard times, is no bagatelle. We suspect there is miscalculation somewhere, and shouldn't be surprised to learn that it is in the vicinity of the Astorian office.

Immediately upon notice to the mayor of New York that the Grant family had chosen Riverside park as the place of burial preparations were begun under the direction of the commissioner of parks to get ready a temporary tomb on the ground to receive General Grant's remains. A plan was drawn up at once for such structure and work upon it was begun. The structure will be a rectangle, 17 feet by 7, internal dimensions; the walls will be 16 inches thick and 4 feet high above the ground, and the floor will be 4 feet below the ground level. The entrance will be guarded by an iron door 4 feet wide and 6 feet high. The coffin will rest free on two stone or brick piers. The structure will have what is known as a barrel roof, turned with two rims of brick work. It will require about 14,000 brick to build it. The floor will be of flagging stone. The temporary structure is about 100 yards distant from where the permanent monument will be erected.

The New York Times, in common with other leading mugwump journals, has been paying a great deal of attention to the affair in the Indianapolis postoffice. One of its specials from Indianapolis gives this:

The democrats seemed to realize for the first time that a serious and determined effort was being made to enforce the civil service law, and the rank and file were greatly disturbed in consequence, for it is a very unpopular measure with them. The political aspects of the matter were freely discussed, and the opinion was generally expressed that if Mr. Jones were removed it would raise an issue between the civil service and spoils wings of the party that would threaten serious consequences. Of all the democrats who were heard to express their views on the matter only one favored the law and its enforcement. Wherever two democrats could be found together they were discussing the law and its local application, and generally both of them were excited and disposed to be angry.

George Tickner Curtis, the well known constitutional lawyer of Jeffersonian democratic principles, in a letter to a New York paper, argues against the interment of the remains of General Grant in a New York park, on the ground that other men will yet render service to the country, and a city park cannot become a common burying ground. But there is likely to arise no man who will render to the country a service so great as that rendered by General Grant, unless the democratic party, in its devotion to Jeffersonian principles, gets up another rebellion.

The Polk county farmer who is disgusted with diversified farming because he can't get anything in Portland for such products as butter and bacon is entitled to be heard. And yet we would like to know what's the matter. For good butter on our tables we are at this moment paying 35 cents a pound; the provision stores of the city are full of eastern bacon, hams and lard, and our brewers have been bringing barley from California. Is there any way to get the producers and consumers of Oregon together?

Yesterday the funeral ceremonies began. They will continue till Saturday, when the remains of the great man who led the armies of the American people in the struggle to preserve their national life and to extend and perpetuate freedom, will be laid at rest.

REV. DR. LEONARD'S REPORTED UTTERANCE.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

I noticed in your editorial, with surprise and sorrow, the "reported" utterance of the prohibition candidate for governor in Ohio. As he is pastor of a leading Methodist church in the state capital, a Christian gentleman of most excellent repute, and one who has put himself deliberately on record as opposed to "free whisky," or "licensed whisky," it seems as though there must be some mistake. Will you please inform some of his personal friends, and friends of the cause he champions, whether your informant is a friend or foe to the reverend gentleman or to the prohibition movement. Or may it not be only a political canard of eastern papers? Respectfully,

ANTI-FREE WHISKY.

The statement appeared recently in a great number of eastern papers. We had it from the Chicago Inter-Ocean. There seems to be no good reason to doubt its authenticity. It certainly reflects the extreme and impracticable views of the average political prohibitionist.

MARRIED.

At his residence, Portland, Or., by Elder J. W. Webb, August 4, Mr. C. W. Johnston and Miss Carrie Gettry, both of Multnomah county.

U. S. Marshal's Notice.

ADMIRALTY SEIZURE—THE "GENERAL HANCOCK," "The Blue Rock," and the "Commodore"—United States of America, District of Oregon, ss: Whereas, a libel hath been filed in the District Court of the United States, for the district of Oregon, on the 13th day of July, 1885, by Mr. John H. Woodward, proctor, on behalf of William J. Miller, in a cause of contract for seaman's wages, civil and maritime, against the barges "General Hancock," "Blue Rock," and "Commodore," their tackle, apparel and furniture, and praying the usual process and monition of the court, that all persons interested in the said vessels, their tackle, apparel and furniture, may be cited to appear and answer the premises, and all due proceedings being had, that the same may be decreed to be sold, and the proceeds thereof be distributed according to law. Therefore, in pursuance of the said monition, under the seal of the said court, to me directed and delivered on the 13th day of July, 1885, I do hereby give notice generally unto all persons having, or pretending to have, any right, title or interest in the said vessels, called the "General Hancock," "Blue Rock," and the "Commodore," their tackle, apparel and furniture, to appear before the said court, at the city of Portland, in said district, on the 7th day of September, 1885, if it be a court day, or else on the next court day thereafter, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, then and there to answer the said libel, and to make known their allegations in that behalf. Dated at Portland, in said district, the 13th day of July, 1885.
PENUMBRA KELLY,
U. S. Marshal for the District of Oregon.
JOHN H. WOODWARD, Proctor for Libellant. (15)jy16

BRIEF MENTION.

Regular council meeting to-night.

Justice Redman will not decide the seven ca[illegible] heard by him Monday till the return of Distr[illegible] Attorney Gearin.

Wm. Schneider, The Dalles restaurant keep[illegible] who gave an Indian whisky, pleaded guilty yest[illegible] day and was fined $15 by Judge Deady.

Seven splendid Spanish Merino rams, from t[illegible] ranch of E. W. Woolsey & Son, at Fulton, Son[illegible] county, Cal., were shipped yesterday from th[illegible] city to W. F. Owens, Roseburg.

The beats of the policemen were all chan[illegible] around yesterday, in many cases night and d[illegible] men changing places, and new faces will be se[illegible] to-day in nearly every part of the city.

The fishermen are leaving Astoria as fast as th[illegible] are paid off. Quite a number come up to this c[illegible] every day, and most of their money will be depo[illegible] ited in the saloons. Some little may find its w[illegible] into the city treasury.

John Brown, a sailor, caused the arrest yes[illegible] day of Ida Wagner, colored, on the charge of st[illegible] ing the furniture of a room, valued at $30. W[illegible] the defendant was brought before Justice Wh[illegible] the case was settled and dismissed.

About 20,000 bushels of wheat is awaiting sh[illegible] ment at points on the Oregon Pacific road [illegible] growers are making for storing it at Corva[illegible] until holders are ready to forward it to Portla[illegible] The grain will then come down on the west s[illegible] road.

W. B. Ayer & Co. have received Allen Th[illegible] dyke Rice's "The Statue of Liberty Enlighten[illegible] the World," being a complete description and [illegible] tory of Bartholdi's statue. It is handsomely il[illegible] trated and printed in the finest style. The b[illegible] is published for the benefit of the pedestal fund.

THE EAST SIDE.

THE CITY AGAIN SUED.

The city having refused to allow Dr. Geo[illegible] Wigg a fee of $40 for attending the alleged sm[illegible] pox cases, that gentleman, after fair warning, c[illegible] menced suit against the city in Justice Coleman[illegible] court yesterday for the recovery of the [illegible] amount. The required summons was served up[illegible] the recorder, and made returnable on Mon[illegible] next. S. H. Harrington, ex-city attorney, [illegible] been retained by plaintiff.

NOTES.

F. S. Dunning and son left yesterday for Q[illegible] cene, Jefferson county, W. T., to be absent ab[illegible] a week.

Mrs. A. B. Mason, two children and nurse, [illegible] yesterday to spend the heated term at the re[illegible] dence of her father, Mr. Cloutre, at Clatsop.

Miss Lydia Winters, niece of Mr. S. Mi[illegible] leaves this morning to visit relatives and friend[illegible] Eugene and Oakland. She will be absent a[illegible] six weeks.

The camping fever has struck three ent[illegible] sportsmen, Charley Kadderly, Ed Sanders, [illegible] Henry DeBoest, who have gone up the fi[illegible] Fairfield, accompanied by guns and fishing tac[illegible]

Work was commenced yesterday upon th[illegible] provements to be made to the Oaks base[illegible] grounds, which have been leased for five year[illegible] Messrs. Buchtel & Lyons. The grounds are to [illegible] graded, a fence and grand stand erected, and [illegible] grounds, under the new management, will be o[illegible] to the public for the first time next Sunday, w[illegible] the Stars and Portlands will meet there.

PERSONAL.

Mr. J. S. Chappel, manager for Christy & W[illegible] leaves this morning for California overland, to [illegible] main until next spring.

Mr. C. C. Brower of St. Helens, will start east [illegible] day for a visit of six weeks. He expects to sp[illegible] most of the time in Michigan.

Mr. John T. Galbraith and wife of Kootenai [illegible] turned yesterday from Yaquina bay. They [illegible] leave for Victoria in a few days.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FRED MATTHEWS REINSTATED.—Yesterday morning Charles Oliver's tenure of the office of superintendent of the street cleaning department was strengthened by the mayor signing a warrant in his favor for the funds in this department. This was done by the advice of the city attorney, who holds that Mr. Oliver's appointment was regular and entirely legal. However, when evening came Oliver was made to step down and out and the former incumbent, Fred Matthews, was reinstated. If anything was needed to prove to the citizens of Portland that a strong ring is managing the affairs of the city in the interests of a few private persons this case certainly furnishes sufficient evidence to satisfy any one Two members of the council committee on streets get together during the absence of the third and make the first change. The man who is removed and his friends, declare that "this thing shall not be," and assert with a positiveness that hope alone cannot give when [illegible] gets back it will be all right " Then there is a little personal in one of the city papers to the effect that "Mr W S Chapman, city surveyor left the city Monday morning for a flying trip down to the seaside He is expected to return this evening He did return and Councilman Forbes with him Immediately thereafter Councilman Forbes and Councilman Adrus have a little talk and they two, constituting a quorum and a majority of the committee on streets and public property revoke the action of the other majority, Messrs Andrus and Holland discharging Oliver and re-employing Matthews Of course it is very easy to explain all this Councilman Andrus was made to see some things in a new light but what were they? This must also be somewhat embarrassing to Mayor Gates, who signed the warrant for $1000 to Oliver and Oliver now no longer has a right to handle this money If the mayor finds he is likely to be made a shuttlecock between two battledores of the street committee he may take it into his head that two members on that committee from the Second ward are two many

THE CATHEDRAL CONCERT.—Extensive preparations have been made for Thursday night's concert in the cathedral. The performers will appear at the chancel end instead of in the gallery The programme bids fair to excel any miscellaneous one yet given here It may be some time ere such an array of local talent will be heard in any one entertainment. Miss Edgar Harry Gates and Mr Kinross, with Miss Marie Miss Hanley and Mrs Goodsell our local favorite are a very strong vocal combination, with a programme of popular selections, should certainly fill the cathedral large as it is Added to this Mr. Kinross has secured a magnificent orchestra of twenty-five pieces, composed of professionals and many of the best members of the Orchestral Union. The orchestral selections equal if they do not surpass any programme lately hear here. The cathedral is delightfully cool owing to the perfect ventilation and the pews are comfortable. The proceeds of the concert will be in aid of the building fund, and we hope Father Fierens will have his funds materially strengthened by a crowded house and an appreciative audience Seats may be reserved at Prentice's

DROWNED.—About half-past 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Bennett C Crich aged 16 years, a son of C Crich ex justice of south Portland precinct was drowned in the Willamette near the old water works He had gone in bathing with two or three companions, and was wading, when he stepped into a hole Not being able to swim he sunk and did not rise. His companions ran ashore, shouting for help but the scene of the drowning was so far distant from help that when it arrived it was of no avail Johnnie McDonald a lad aged [illegible] and small for his age dived seven times for the body, which lay in about fifteen feet of water and on the eighth attempt brought it to the surface More than twenty-five minutes had elapsed between the sinking and the time help arrived, and every effort was made to resuscitate the lad but without avail Coroner Cooke was summoned and decided that it was not necessary to hold an inquest The body was then conveyed to the residence of the boy's father corner First and Mill

A COMMON COMPLAINT.—A manufacturer of brushes in this city and good brushes too complained yesterday that there was no use trying to build up any kind of manufacturing interests in this city for the reason that the wholesale merchants here would not handle home goods but preferred to buy in the east. "Perhaps you do not sell so cheaply " was suggested "But I do," was the reply "and offer better goods for the same money Still they won't buy of me, and the reason is that they can deceive people as to the wholesale price of eastern goods, and can charge more and make more profit on them than they can on mine " This complaint is a common one of such small manufacturers as there are here And it is the consumers both of city and country who could change all this if they would Let consumers buy Oregon products, and merchants will handle them instead of eastern goods

VICIOUS TRAMP.—In Justice Greene's court yesterday tramp who swore his true name was James Statley was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $500 and not being able to give bonds went to jail He is one of a gang of fifteen who arrived recently in Albina on brake beams On Monday he asked Andrew Johnson of Albina for a meal. Johnson suggested that he go to work and offered to secure him a job whereupon the tramp became very abusive struck Johnson in the face, drew a knife and threatened to kill him and burn his house down Subsequently Johnson met the tramp and thrashed him soundly

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHT TRIPS.—At the solicitation of many friends the Lurline will make a trip Friday night, leaving the foot of Alder street at [illegible] P M connecting with the General Miles for Ilwaco next morning The Lurline will make her Saturday night trip as usual leaving Alder street dock at 9 P M., making connection with steamer General Miles for Ilwaco at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, returning General Miles will leave Ilwaco at 6 P M., connecting with the Lurline for Portland Sunday night, thus giving seasiders from ten to eleven hours on the beach

IMMIGRATION BOARD MATTERS.

Regular Monthly Meeting—The Secretary's Report—Office Force Reduced—Number of Immigrants Arrived—The Exhibit Car

The state board of immigration held its regular monthly meeting at its rooms yesterday There were present Messrs Dodd, Ladue and Corbett.

The report of the secretary submitted shows a large falling off of immigrant arrivals since the corresponding date of last month The visitors for July number [illegible] against 902 for June and 10[illegible] for May The decrease is no doubt correctly attributed to the fact that intending immigrants are busy securing the season's crop at their present homes. Those who have come possess means with which to purchase improved tracts of land for homes

The board has been able to provide applicants for work with suitable places in the country thus both aiding the farmer and giving the immigrants a start The board has issued 208 tickets, eighteen of which were round trips

As the arrivals have decreased the number of letters of inquiry has grown rapidly and if these communications can be taken as an index of the feeling and purposes of the writers there will be large accessions to Oregon's population this fall and winter A large proportions of these letters come from Iowa many of the authors intimating that they have been induced to write by the character of the correspondence furnished Iowa papers by Iowa editors A number of letters have been received from Ohio that portion of it to which a large amount of immigration literature had been sent by the secretary at the request of Messrs Hedges and Carpenter of the Senator Sherman party Some few business men write but most of the correspondents are farmers and farmers who indicate that they are coming supplied with a fair amount of money

The board has decided to make a 20 000 issue of a pamphlet most of these books to be sent with the specimen car

In view of the decrease in the number of immigrant arrivals and the consequent lessening of work the state board of immigration at its meeting yesterday, decided to reduce the working force to the secretary and a boy (Mr Loomis clerk retiring) whose pay shall not be over $25 per month

The following route was laid out by the board for the exhibit car

Oskaloosa Iowa August 31 to September 4
Iowa state fair September 4 to September 11
Illinois state fair at Chicago September 14 to 18
Between September 18 and 29 the car will visit a number of prominent places in Michigan
Indiana state fair at Indianapolis from September 29 to October 4
St. Louis fair from October 5 to October 10
In Kentucky from October 12 to October 18

After visiting these places the car will start for New Orleans and reach there in time for the opening of the next exposition at that city

FINANCES OF THE FOURTH

Final Meeting of the Committee—The City's Subscription Returned to the Treasury

The Fourth of July celebration committee held a meeting last evening to close up the business of the committee The following bills were presented and ordered paid

Mark Skiff Salem $5 00.
A J Goodrich, The Dalles $3 84
W J Butterfield Corvallis, $2 00
Sellig & Co Astoria, $4

In the matter of a prize of a paper shell offered for a four oared race, the committee on competitive awards reported that after thorough investigation they found no reason for withholding the prize and recommended that it be awarded to the crew entered by the Portland Rowing Association The report was adopted and the amount was ordered paid to the treasurer of that club

The $300 voted by the city council to aid the celebration was ordered to be returned to the city treasury

After all claims had been paid there was a balance of $171 remaining in the treasury of the committee which amount was donated to the Children's Home and the Grant memorial exercises.

NOTES FROM POLK COUNTY.

INDEPENDENCE Aug 3.

Nearly everybody that could afford it and some even that could not, have gone to Yaquina bay to take advantage of the low excursion rates.

Although farmers are busy, they don't neglect religious affairs. A campmeeting at the Luckiamute was largely attended, and new converts joined the church

To pick or not to pick, that is the question with the hop-growers in this county Whether it would be more profitable to lose all the work already performed, or throw some more good money after bad and pick the hops and take the chances is pretty hard to answer with the present outlook.

Considerable grain has been threshed and nearly everybody is disappointed. Fields that looked more promising than last year barely yield one-half Eighteen bushels to the acre will be a fall average for Polk for fall wheat and considerable less for spring. The berry itself is not quite as plump and heavy as in former years fully showing the effects of the early hot weather

Diversified farming has received a black eye in this country One farmer who believes and swears by THE OREGONIAN, tooks its advice last year with the following result Hops, ten acres not worth picking butter, from ten cows, a No 1 quality no market for it eggs, from fifty hens worth twelve and one-half cents in goods, bacon from fifty hogs can't get any cash for it only trade at less than bacon cost rye 1200 bushels worth less than wheat and no market barley 800 bushels can only get an offer of forty five cents delivered in Portland—less than wheat would have brought at the same place. Add to this dried fruit, which he always had, but which will bring nothing this year and see what diversified farming comes to Please tell the editor to sing a different song until Portland or some other town gets enough enterprise about it to build some factories and bring some people to the country that will consume produce Wheat raising as a specialty will hold out just as long as cent per cent holds out in Portland

YAMHILL NOTES.

DAILY LIFE AT CLATSOP.

How the Men, Women and Children put in the Time.

Surf Bathing the Principal Event of the Day—The Beach at Night—A Few Hints to New Comers.

How is the bathing this year. The above question is usually the first put to a man by acquaintances on his return from the coast his face and hands showing unmistakably the marks of salt air and sunshine If your acquaintance has never visited Clatsop beach he will keep on with inquiries as long as your patience to make answers holds out No man with capacity for taking rational wholesome enjoyment can help going into superlatives when he tells about the pleasures presented at the seaside and a stranger is inclined to receive enthusiastic statements with wide allowance Like [illegible] in Joshua Whitcomb your witness is alive and only a hundred miles or so away and it does not cost much money for a skeptic to be convinced of the truth or falsity of your views

The bathing is simply perfect Old timers who have summered at Clatsop year after year say the water was never pleasanter than it has been for the past week The winds are very gentle the sun is warm and the breakers just strong enough for excitement and weak enough to remove all thought of danger Of course the plunge in the sea is the event of the day Every one who is not an invalid and has a bathing suit goes in and the sport is enjoyed equally by the children and the aged It was not uncommon last week for young people to leap the breakers for twenty minutes and the strong swimmers stayed out half an hour Most of the little ones had to be coaxed out of the water and a few had to be taken out by force so great was their enjoyment It happens this year that there are a number of excellent swimmers at Clatsop and ladies have no lack of escort and protection Sam Stott whose stature permits him to wade farther than any one else looms up like a lighthouse and he is able to lift a person of ordinary size entirely clear of the "combers He is a tower of strength The finest swimmer so far this season is Sheriff Tom Jordan and no boy who ever played hookey to go in swimming took more delight in the stolen sport than Tom does in diving through the league long rollers " In his costume of black he is the picture of a cannon ball performer in the circus. One important feature of bathing at the seaside is that the bath houses are not 300 feet from the surf at high tide A new life line was put out recently but no one goes near it because there is no necessity If there is any undertow, it is scarcely perceptible.

Except at meals the day time is spent in running on the beach, walking in the woods or on the hard sands boating on the river or swinging in hammocks In every direction nature invites visitors, and you can plan a pleasant journey on foot for every morning and afternoon in the week and not go over the same ground twice. But after all the ocean is the perennial attraction. Every one wants to get as close to the surf as he can, and every one goes at least three times a day A glorious sight and one that never can grow old is the sunset. This over a fire on the beach is in order They have had one every night for the past week, varying in size with the energy of the young men to gather material. Last Saturday evening was the gala night of the season. Before dark Fire Company No 1 composed of six enthusiastic members localized about three cords of drift wood arranged the sticks and waited with starting the blaze until the last stage arrived. It was a piece of fire works worthy of any joyous occasion and aroused the spirits of the crowd to a high degree Some one proposed centennial lancers on the beach and soon eight couples singing the music were going through the evolutions The dark ocean for the back ground the dancers in the middle distance, a crowd of a hundred or more in the foreground and over all the glare of an intensely bright light made a semi weird semi grand picture not soon to be forgotten. At 10 o'clock the crowd returned to the hotel where dancing was renewed Miss Blanche Hersey playing the music in splendid style

It is a common mistake to suppose that ladies who go to Clatsop beach and stop at the Seaside house have to wear their finest clothes, unless they wish to be the subject of unfavorable comment The woman who appears in elaborate dress will feel awfully lonesome Clatsop beach like love

Levels all ranks
And lays the shepherd's crook beside the scepter

Probably it will be well enough to take along one second best dress but you want the clothes that will stand the most wear Take canvas shoes regular lawn tennis shoes They are light comfortable, strong and cheap and decidedly appropriate Clatsop beach is not Long Branch or Atlantic City on a small scale not a place for putting on style and spending lots of money but a home like country place, free from restraint and malaria, fuss and foul air fine fixings and formality Of course no lady is going there looking shabby but if she is wise she will take clothes too good to give away and yet not good enough to wear at home next fall.

The mail facilities could be worse but not much worse Letters come three times a week Tuesdays Thursdays and Saturdays In winter the carrier reaches the postoffice promptly at noon the schedule time Now he has other [illegible] try and is from three to five hours late A letter mailed in Portland on Friday will reach the seaside the next Tuesday It will get to Astoria say 4 P M. Saturday There is no mail Sunday or Monday from Astoria so it has to wait until Tuesday at 8 A M. Mail leaves the Sea side Mondays Wednesdays and Fridays at 8 A M reaching Portland the next afternoon

It is necessary to amend what was said in a letter written a week ago at Clatsop beach concerning the ride from the steamboat landing If the wind is unfavorable a passenger will be covered with fine clean sand If favorable he will not Persons on the front seat of a stage will not be annoyed when those on the back seat are But there is an abundance of soap water and towels at each end of the line and in ten minutes the subject is forgotten

A COMPLAINT AGAINST THE NORTHERN PACIFIC

KLICKITAT COUNTY W T Aug 1

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

When goods are shipped from a point east over the Northern Pacific railroad freight prepaid and receipt taken therefor has the shipper any rights that the N P R R is bound to respect They publish statements regarding this country that were the statements animated with life they would suffer torture and be made to [illegible] compelled to fit the real facts for it would be worse than the camel going through the eye of a needle People are misled by these glowing accounts only to find their falsity when reaching here When we came out dining cars were advertised at [illegible] cents per meal but it was soon increased to $1 and this is only one of the many impositions practiced Once here not the least favor or accommodation is afforded by the road Every article package or case sent over the Northern Pacific has had from 20 to 25 per cent additional freight charged Though in every instance charges have been prepaid even when shipped from St Paul at their own depot weighed by their own men and bills made out at their own office the result has always been the same—25 per cent extra freight charged at the delivery office of the Northern Pacific railroad We have been nine months [illegible] collecting a little bill of $10 for lost freight and [illegible] until [illegible] waiting for it could we [illegible] [illegible] Now I'd like to ask if we cannot compel the delivery of goods after freight has been prepaid If the Northern Pacific railroad has [illegible] [illegible] the men they let them not the public [illegible] There is something rotten in [illegible] with the employer or employes

SEE TO YOUR ASSESSMENT

The county court has made an order, in view of the very large number of corrections applied for in the tax roll last year, that no applications for reduction of taxes, or correction of the tax roll (other than clerical errors), for the coming year will be heard after the roll shall leave the equalization board Every effort will be made to get it correct, but it must stand as it leaves the board.

All taxpayers should hand in their statements or see the roll, whether called on by the assessor or not

No indebtedness on account of mortgage will be allowed by the assessor unless claimed.

THE EMBARGO ON HOME GOODS

PORTLAND Aug 4

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Your article last day OREGONIAN entitled A Principal Obstacle is so graphically true that it called up a long train of old experiences that I had almost forgotten and reminded me of one of my [illegible] lessons in Upham's Mental Philosophy

[illegible] in the countless chambers of the brain Our thoughts are linked by many a hidden chain Strike but one link and lo what myriads rise Each stamps its image as the other flies

For many years I was engaged in the [illegible] trade of goods and wares here in Oregon both at Portland and Salem from the sawmill's sash doors blinds hubs spokes felloes and furniture of every description to that of the woolen mill goods and I keenly remember the obstacles you mention [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] We built a large factory at Salem with [illegible] thirty two labor saving machines We were making as good an article of door of mountain cedar when a jobber commenced importing eastern work through [illegible] until we sent to Portland some one hundred doors at lower figures than the imported ones that were put in stock It was the same with woolen goods A well known house in Salem persisted in selling imported cloths shoddy at that—when we could furnish them a better article and all wool right from our factory

A PRIEST DIES IN A COFFIN

LONDON Aug 4.—A terrible incident connected with the cholera epidemic is reported from Spain A priest who had labored zealously among the stricken people finally was prostrated by the scourge himself The disease passed through all its regular stages and the priest apparently died. The frightened people who were about him made only a hasty examination of the body, and placed it in a coffin screwed down the lid and left it over night to be buried next day When the bearers came in the morning to remove the body a fearful sight presented itself The coffin had been upset and had fallen from the table to the floor and the body was twisted around and partially doubled up showing that it had been writhing in mortal agony The face was appalling in its expression of hopeless horror and the hands were bleeding It is feared that many cases of premature burial may have occurred during the present epidemic in consequence of great fright among the people which causes them to get rid of the dead at the earliest possible moment

CHOLERA IN A PRISON

MADRID Aug 4.—Cholera has for some time existed in the jail at Carthagena but every effort has been made to suppress outside knowledge of the fact Yesterday it leaked out that no less than 200 criminals imprisoned within the jail were down with the scourge The discovery produced a fearful panic among the other convicts and they rose in revolt and made most desperate efforts to get away from the prison. They were however, finally overpowered by the soldiery and compelled to resume their quarters Several inmates of the jail at Granada are also ill with cholera.

There were reported yesterday 3718 new cases of cholera throughout Spain and 1 0 deaths from the disease occurred.

ENGLAND

THE LONDON SCANDALS

LONDON Aug 4.—The house of commons last night agreed to a new clause in the criminal bill granting the right of search to relations guardians, or any other person who is in good faith interested in a girl's welfare The act making the medical man who examines a girl for immoral purposes, liable to two years' imprisonment, was negatived by a vote of 115 to 50 The bill was passed in committee

Sir Charles Dilke's friends are assiduously and loyally spreading a strong denial of the divorce scandal reports, and insist there is not a word of truth in the rumor The denials are not believed, even by Dilke's friends

CHURCH AND STATE.

THE DISEASE AT MARSEILLES

MARSEILLES, Aug 4.—Cases of cholera here are mostly among the poor classes The Portuguese consul has succumbed to the disease Minister Legrande and Doctor Brouardel have arrived here to organize a system of sanitation The municipal authorities have conferred with foreign consuls here respecting the establishment of quarantine

PARIS Aug 4.—The existence of cholera in Marseilles is now officially admitted, and twenty-two deaths have been reported within the last twelve hours Horror prevails over the prospect of a repetition of last year's experience

CHOLERA IN PARIS

PARIS Aug 4.—There are several cases of cholera in Paris hospitals and a number of other patients with the disease are undergoing private treatment in the city The authorities of the city and all newspapers except Cri Du Peuple and radical organs refrain from mentioning the appearance of the disease in Paris, fearing the announcement would frighten away English and American tourists who are thronging the city Americans have been warned from going either to England or Switzerland Hospitals are actively preparing to combat the epidemic.

THE PANIC INCREASING

MARSEILLES Aug. 4.—The cholera panic is increasing and many persons are fleeing from the city in dread The local press has been ordered to preserve silence respecting the existence and ravages of the scourge. It is reported that no less than eighty persons have died from cholera in Marseilles within the past few days

TUESDAY Aug 4

The aggregate supply of wheat in sight in the United States (exclusive of California and Oregon and Canada), July 29, was 37,539,323 bushels and that of corn 6,827,650 bushels,—against on the preceding weekly exhibit, an aggregate of 36,970,3[illegible]0 bushels wheat and 7,066,000 bushels corn, and a year ago, 12,760,450 bushels wheat and 4,867,6[illegible]0 bushels corn.

The Northern Pacific Elevator Company has extended its system to Montana and Washington territories, and is erecting a 50,000 bus steam elevator at Cheney, 20,000 bus warehouses at Sprague, Prosser and Spokane Falls and a 15,000 bus warehouse at Missoula.

A Duluth correspondence July 2[illegible]: "T A Olmstead, at present grain inspector at this port will go into the grain commission business here as soon as he loses his present position Aug 1[illegible]. He starts Sunday for the Pacific coast and Washington territory to work up trade in white winter wheat, for which he thinks there is a good opening here. Not much of this wheat has been received here previously though last year G S Barnes & Co. were consignees for a small amount. On account of the action of the Northern Pacific road in maintaining a rate of $8 a ton from Walla Walla this western wheat can be brought here with profit to the farmer and to the railroad company. It can reach Liverpool at considerably less expense this way than by either the Southern Pacific road or the Pacific ocean." The correspondent probably means $8 per ton from Northern Pacific stations. There has been much talk concerning shipments east with very little business so far and an indifferent prospect later on.

The Haidee took 3212 bbls flour valued at $1[illegible],500 shipped by Gibson, Church & Co.

Overland receipts include 100 cs lard, 4 cs canned goods, 100 cs deviled ham, 60 cs sause, 10 cs salad dressing, 2 cs candy, 10 hf bbls, 100 kgs, 100 cs syrup, 2066 cs coal oil, 25 bxs tin, 5 cs cigars, 2 cs cigarettes, 56 pkgs tobacco.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 1235 ctls wheat, 160[illegible] ctls oats, 40 ctls shorts, 750 lbs wool, 160 lbs hides, 16 cs eggs, 3 pkgs butter. Also 1 [illegible] ctls wheat, 206 ctls bran, 35,573 lbs wool, 5650 lbs hides, 20 bxs fruit from the eastern section.

SALMON SHIPMENTS—Per Br bark Haidee for London: Wm Hume 1960, Devlin 2500, Megler 2500, Warren 2000, Anglo-American 2500, Victoria Cross brand 2000, Pillar Rock 1000, Booth 1000, G T Myers 1111, Astoria Packing Co 6510; total [illegible] cases.

Per Br bark Carnarvon Castle for Liverpool: Cutting 2035, Hanthorn 6176, Occident 1000, Wm Hume 2000, Scandinavian 6000, Hapgood 1500, Megler 2000, Fisherman's 1000, Aberdeen 1000, Williams 1000, Thistle 1000; total 28,711 cases.

WHEAT—Cabled markets continue slow. Other markets quiet but in fair feeling. Locally trade remains quiet and quotations unchanged.

FLOUR—Market quiet with slow demand. Values show no change.

OATS—New are being offered more freely but few sales are reported. Values without change.

EGGS—Market steadier at 1[illegible]c; receipts only fair.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug 4—Governments dull and steady. Prices at the opening this morning were strong and in early dealings there was a fractional advance which carried quotations to the highest figures realized during the day. In the afternoon the market was comparatively steady until near the close, when some of the more active stocks rallied a fraction and closed firm, with net gains of from ¼ to ⅜ per cent, the greatest advances being Western Union and Denver and Rio Grande each ½, New York Central and Reading each ⅜, Oregon and Transcontinental and Missouri, Kansas and Texas each ¼, and others for smaller amounts. Northern Pacific, New York Central and Pacific Mail are unchanged. The exceptionally weak stocks were Union Pacific and Oregon Railway and Navigation company. Union Pacific was weak at the opening and closed at a net loss of ⅜ per cent. Oregon Railway and Navigation is down 1½, closing at the lowest price of the day.

The Mail and Express says: The demand for mining shares was reported heavier though actual transactions recorded were insignificant. The Comstocks were strong, holders insisting on an advance of 25 cents and upwards. The rest of the list was also stronger with sales of Sierra Nevada at $1 60, Hale and Norcross 64c, Best and Belcher $2 40.

SHIPPING NOTES

Br bark Haidee for London, passed out at 6 30 A M.

Str State of California reached San Francisco at 3 50 A M and the Columbia sailed at 10 30 A. M.

That part of the Perthshire's cargo not salved was sold for $5[illegible].

The Isabel was at Yokohama July 1, to sail same day for Tacoma with 22,470 pkgs tea. If she sailed as expected she is making a long passage.

Br ship Kincardineshire comes to this port from London in Balfour, Guthrie & Co's line.

The steamship Wilmington is to be laid up in Oakland creek. Another dream of opposition or competition is dispelled. Very few really wanted to see opposition anyway and Oregon is probably better off without it. Past experiences with opposition have shown that Portland and Oregon received no substantial or lasting benefit from it.

For the month ended July 20 one vessel sailed with lumber cargo from Burrard inlet for Melbourne. The cargo consisted of 671,048 ft t. and g lumber, 50,[illegible]24 pickets, 2[illegible] bdl lath and [illegible] pcs rough lumber, valued at $12 [illegible].

In the month of July nine vessels sailed foreign from Puget Sound with lumber. Three loaded at Blakely, two at Ludlow, two at Gamble and one each at Tacoma and Ludlow. Four went to Honolulu, three to Melbourne and two to Valparaiso. They carried 4,[illegible] ft rough, [illegible] ft dressed and 368,[illegible] ft surfaced lumber, 45,324 ft dressed and 308,264 ft rough redwood lumber, 20,000 redwood shingles, 308,080 ft pine lumber, 200,000 shingles, 21,400 lath, 1425 bdls and 49,695 pickets, 50,000 dressed do, 1016 cedar posts, all of the value of $87,94[illegible]. To Valparaiso 300 cs salmon were also shipped.

THE TREADWELL QUARTZ MILL

Victoria Times

The Treadwell quartz mill on Douglas island, Alaska which was completed and put into operation about the middle of June last, is an establishment of considerable proportions. From the gentleman who superintended its construction we obtained the following particulars: The main building is 44 feet long by 1[illegible] feet in width, and [illegible] feet to the apex of the roof from the lower floor. The flat on which the stamps (120 in number) are operated is forty feet above the foundation. Three hundred to three hundred and fifty tons of rock is crushed daily. During the first twenty two days' run nearly $100,000 of gold was cleaned up. This was what is called the free milling portion of the product. The ore carries from three to four per cent of sulphuret of iron, which is saved and will be subjected to what is known as a chlorination process. For this purpose chlorination works have been erected of considerable dimensions with two revolving furnaces of the most approved description by which from tests already made, an average of $100 to the ton is expected to be realized from this source alone at least $1000 per day is anticipated. Had the sulphurates which was saved during the first month's run been worked the shipment of gold bars would have been increased by many thousands of dollars.

In addition to these works the company have in operation a saw mill capable of cutting 100,000 feet of lumber per day. With this mill the lumber was cut which was used in the various buildings. The motive power which drives the quartz mill is supplied by water power which has a head or pressure of 400 feet and is carried to the water wheel by iron pipes of great strength while the power used in the saw mill is a steam engine capable of doing much more work.

In the mine and about the works there are over 200 men employed being a mixture of white men, Indians and Chinamen. It is a safe statement to make that for general convenience and the opportunities of mining and reducing the ore the Treadwell mine has no equal on this continent as it is erected within 200 feet of ocean navigation and distant from the face of the mine say 300 feet more. It is also proposed to run the ore to the mill by a cable railroad which will be extended along the tunnel. The vein or lead has been proved to be payably productive for at least 300 to 350 feet in width, and the body of ore above the tunnel about 400 feet high, so that there is in sight many millions of tons of milling rock. Take it all in all the outlook for the future of the Treadwell mine is brighter than that of any other mine which is in operation to-day. We say to British Columbians be up and doing, for there is no good reason why there should not be in operation in this province quartz mills of like capacity.

POLITICAL EXPRESSION

Philadelphia Times: Fortunately for himself the vice president is not amenable to the civil service laws.

Indianapolis News: At the next new engraving of postage stamps a picture of Grant should be placed on one set.

The statement that the Cincinnati Volksblatt had gone over to the democrats and would carry a large German vote with it is emphatically denied by its owner, Colonel Marxbreit.

All the chief federal offices in Louisiana have now been turned over to the democrats. The New Orleans Picayune applauds the appointments made but the Times Democrat is silent.

Cincinnati Commercial Gazette: The people of Cincinnati irrespective of party and by an overwhelming majority are in favor of the principles of the Scott law taxing the liquor traffic.

Philadelphia Press: The harmony which prevails in the Ohio republican ranks makes the stories of dissensions circulated by democratic papers too ridiculous to deceive even the democrats.

If a southern congressman interprets aright the political signs of the times to the Cleveland Leader's Washington correspondent, the democratic party will be split into administration and anti-administration factions in less than six months.

Cleveland Leader: Who believes that Roach would act uprightly in all private cases and not in transactions with the government. None except those interested in breaking him down and they are trying to believe in a lie of their own raising.

The selection of Senator Hoar for presiding officer and Mr Lodge for chairman of the committee on resolutions of the Massachusetts republican state convention convinces the democratic Boston Post that the republican party is a united organization once more.

Chicago Inter Ocean: It is said that the vice president is greatly pleased with the prospect of crossing his sword with the president in the Indianapolis postoffice business. He sees in the future a boom for Hendricks from the great army of democrats who spit whenever civil service is mentioned.

St. Louis Globe Democrat: The action of the president in ordering the Jones investigation, which can be construed only as a thrust at Mr Hendricks, is not calculated to promote the chances of harmony, to say the least of it, and it may not improbably prove to be the means of hastening the conflict.

New York Times: Now if any important number of democratic papers and politicians led by Mr Hendricks wish to take the stand that the rank and file of the party despise the reform and believe in the spoils system, the men who voted for their candidate in 1884 in order to get reform will watch the result of the contention with great interest. If Mr Hendricks and his friends prove that they are right of course their party will lose a good many votes in the future and in the near future too.

The esteemed Memphis Avalanche insists that President Cleveland is confounding the old politicians of both parties. Very likely. It is equally probable that the old politicians of both parties are doing something stronger than confounding Mr Cleveland.—Philadelphia Press.

A pious lady met Homer Martin one Sunday morning on his way to take an excursion steamer. "Are you not going to church?" she inquired. "No ma'am," said he. "But of course you like to go to church," said she. "Like it immensely," said the wag, "but I can restrain myself."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

TENNYSON'S LATEST POEM.

New York Independent

The Princess Beatrice was married on the day that General Grant died. Wedding and dying, joy and grieving, fill alternate lines in each day's page of history, and so we carry in our right hand the chaplet we will lay on the bier of our own great dead, and in our left we take the bridal wreath woven by Britain's laureate poet for Britain's youngest princess. Our agent in London has cabled the following lines on the marriage of the Princess Beatrice by Lord Alfred Tennyson, poet laureate:

Two suns of Love make day of human life,
Which else with all its pains and griefs and deaths,
Were utter darkness—one the sun of dawn
That brightens through the mother's tender eyes
And warms the child's awakening world—and one
The later rising sun of spousal love,
Which from her household orbit draws the child
To move in other spheres. The mother weeps
At that white funeral of the single life,
Her maiden daughter's marriage, and her tears
Are half of pleasure, half of pain—the child
Is happy even in leaving her! But thou,
True daughter, whose all faithful filial eyes
Have seen the loneliness of earthly thrones,
Wilt neither quit the widowed crown, nor let
This later light of love have risen in vain,
But moving through the mother's home, between
The two that love thee, lead a summer life
Swayed by each love and swaying to each love
Like some conjectured planet in mid heaven
Between two suns and drawing down from both
The light and genial warmth of double day.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

Golden Medical Discovery is a concentrated potent alterative or blood cleansing remedy that wins golden opinions from all who use it for any humor, from the common pimple, blotch or eruption to the formidable scrofulous swelling or ulcer. Internal fever, soreness and ulceration yield to its benign influences. Consumption which is but a scrofulous affection of the lungs may in its early stages be cured by the use of this God given remedy. See article on consumption and its treatment in Part III of the World's Dispensary Dime Series of pamphlets, costs two stamps, post paid. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

The aggregate supply of wheat in sight in the United States (exclusive of California and Oregon and Canada), July 29 was 37,539,323 bushels and that of corn 6 827 650 bushels,—against on the preceding weekly exhibit, an aggregate of 36 970 bushels wheat and 066 000 bushels corn and a year ago 1 700,450 bushels wheat and 4 68 bushels corn.

The Northern Pacific Elevator Company has extended its system to Montana and Washington territories and is erecting a 50 000 bus steam elevator at Cheney 20 000 bus warehouses at Sprague, Prosser and Spokane Falls and a 5 000 bus warehouse at Missoula.

Duluth correspondence July — T A Olmstead, at present grain inspector at this port will go into the grain commission business here as soon as he loses his present position Aug 13 He starts Sunday for the Pacific coast and Washington territory to work up trade in white winter wheat, for which he thinks there is a good opening here Not much of this wheat has been received here previously though last year G S Barnes & Co were consignees for a small amount On account of the action of the Northern Pacific road in maintaining a rate of $8 a ton from Walla Walla this western wheat can be brought here with profit to the farmer and to the railroad company It can reach Liverpool at considerably less expense this way than by either the Southern Pacific road or the Pacific ocean The correspondent probably means $8 per ton from Northern Pacific stations There has been much talk concerning shipments east with very little business so far and an [illegible] different prospect later on

NEW YORK Aug 4 —Governments dull and steady Prices at the opening this morning were strong and in early dealings there was a fractional advance which carried quotations to the highest figures realized during the day In the afternoon the market was comparatively steady until near the close when some of the more active stocks rallied a fraction and closed firm with net gains of from ⅛ to ⅜ per cent, the greatest advances being Western Union and Denver and Rio Grande each ⅞, New York Central and Reading each ¾ Oregon and Transcontinental and Missouri Kansas and Texas each ⅝ and others for smaller amounts. Northern Pacific New York Central and Pacific Mail are unchanged The exceptionally weak stocks were Union Pacific and Oregon Railway and Navigation company Union Pacific was weak at the opening and closed at a net loss of ¾ per cent. Oregon Railway and Navigation is down ⅝ closing at the lowest price of the day

The Mail and Express says The demand for mining shares was reported heavier though actual transactions recorded were insignificant The Comstocks were strong holders insisting on an advance of 25 cents and upwards The rest of the list was also stronger with sales of Sierra Nevada at $1 60 Hale and Norcross 5½c Best and Belcher $2 40

Br bark Haidee, for London passed out at 6 50 A M

Str State of California reached San Francisco at 5.50 A M and the Columbia sailed at 10 30 A M

That part of the Perthshire's cargo not salved was sold for £5

The Isabel was at Yokohama July 1 to sail same day for Tacoma with 25 470 pkgs tea. If she sailed as expected she is making a long passage

Br ship Kincardineshire comes to this port from London in Balfour Guthrie & Co 's line

The steamship Wilmington is to be laid up in Oakland creek Another dream of opposition or competition is dispelled Very few really wanted to see opposition anyway and Oregon is probably better off without it Past experiences with opposition have shown that Portland and Oregon received no substantial or lasting benefit from it

For the month ended July 20 one vessel sailed with lumber cargo from Burrard inlet for Melbourne The cargo consisted of 671 048 ft t and g lumber 50,024 pickets 2 bdls lath and 05 9 1 5 ft rough lumber valued at $12 216.

In the month of July nine vessels sailed foreign from Puget Sound with lumber Three loaded at Blakely two at Ludlow two at Gamble and one each at Tacoma and Ludlow Four went to Honolulu three to Melbourne and two to Valparaiso They carried 4,719 457 ft rough, 401 ft dressed and 368 391 ft surfaced lumber, 45,024 ft dressed and 368 261 ft rough redwood lumber, 20 000 redwood shingles 308 000 ft pine lumber 200 000 shingles 421 400 lath 1125 bdls and 49,695 pickets 50,000 dressed do, 10 6 cedar posts all of the value of $63,941 To Valparaiso 300 cs salmon were also shipped

Twice the Preserver

Providence Journal

Grant's monument should have two things preeminently conspicuous upon it—that he saved the nation from destruction by rebellion and from dishonor by repudiation and bankruptcy

Loss of hair and grayness, which often mar the prettiest face, are prevented by Parker's Hair Balsam.

THE TREADWELL QUARTZ MILL

Victoria Times

The Treadwell quartz mill on Douglas island Alaska which was completed and put into operation about the middle of June last, is an establishment of considerable proportions From the gentleman who superintended its construction we obtained the following particulars The main building is 144 feet long by 116 feet in width and 74 feet to the apex of the roof from the lower floor The flat on which the stamps (120 in number) are operated is forty feet above the foundation Three hundred to three hundred and fifty tons of rock is crushed daily During the first twenty two days run, nearly $100 000 of gold was cleaned up This was what is called the free milling portion of the product. The ore carries from three to four per cent of sulphuret of iron which is saved and will be subjected to what is known as a chlorination process For this purpose chlorination works have been erected of considerable dimensions with two revolving furnaces of the most approved description by which, from tests already made an average of $100 to the ton is expected to be realized from this source alone at least $1000 per day is anticipated Had the sulphurates which was saved during the first month's run been worked the shipment of gold bars would have been increased by many thousands of dollars.

In addition to these works the company have in operation a saw mill capable of cutting 100 000 feet of lumber per day. With this mill the lumber was cut which was used in the various buildings The motive power which drives the quartz mill is supplied by water power which has a head or pressure of 400 feet and is carried to the water wheel by iron pipes of great strength while the power used in the saw mill is a steam engine capable of doing much more work

In the mine, and about the works, there are over 200 men employed being a mixture of white men Indians and Chinamen It is a safe statement to make that for general convenience and the opportunities of mining and reducing the ore the Treadwell mine has no equal on this continent as it is erected within 200 feet of ocean navigation and distant from the face of the mine say 300 feet more

It is also proposed to run the ore to the mill by a cable railroad, which will be extended along the tunnel The vein or lead has been proved to be payably productive for at least 300 to 350 feet in width and the body of ore above the tunnel about 400 feet high so that there is in sight many millions of tons of milling rock Take it all in all the outlook for the future of the Treadwell mine is brighter than that of any other mine which is in operation to-day We say to British Columbians be up and doing for there is no good reason why there should not be in operation in this province quartz mills of like capacity

Philadelphia Times Fortunately for himself the vice president is not amenable to the civil service laws

Indianapolis News At the next new engraving of postage stamps a picture of Grant should be placed on one set

The statement that the Cincinnati Volksblatt had gone over to the democrats and would carry a large German vote with it is emphatically denied by its owner Colonel Markbreit

At the chief federal offices in Louisiana have now been turned over to the democrats The New Orleans Picayune applauds the appointments made but the Times Democrat is silent

Cincinnati Commercial Gazette The people of Cincinnati irrespective of party and by an overwhelming majority are in favor of the principles of the Scott law, taxing the liquor traffic

Philadelphia Press The harmony which prevails in the Ohio republican ranks makes the stories of dissensions circulated by democratic papers too ridiculous to deceive even the democrats.

If a southern congressman interprets aright the political signs of the times to the Cleveland Leader's Washington correspondent, the democratic party will be split into administration and anti administration factions in less than six months.

Cleveland Leader Who believes that Roach would act uprightly in all private cases and not in transactions with the government None except those interested in breaking him down and they are trying to believe in a lie of their own raising

The selection of Senator Hoar for presiding officer and Mr Lodge for chairman of the committee on resolutions of the Massachusetts republican state convention convinces the democratic Boston Post that the republican party is a united organization once more

Chicago Inter Ocean It is said that the vice president is greatly pleased with the prospect of crossing his sword with the president in the Indianapolis postoffice business He sees in the future a boom for Hendricks from the great army of democrats who spit whenever civil service is mentioned

St Louis Globe Democrat The action of the president in ordering the Jones investigation which can be construed only as a thrust at Mr Hendricks is not calculated to promote the chances of harmony to say the least of it and it may not improbably prove to be the means of hastening the conflict

New York Times Now if any important number of democratic papers and politicians led by Mr Hendricks wish to take the stand that the rank and file of the party despise the reform and believe in the spoils system the men who voted for their candidate in 1884 in order to get reform will watch the result of the contention with great interest If Mr Hendricks and his friends prove that they are right of course their party will lose a good many votes in the future and in the near future too

New York Independent

The Princess Beatrice was married on the day that General Grant died Wedding and dying joy ing and grieving, fill alternate lines in each day's page of history, and so we carry in our right hand the chaplet we will lay on the bier of our own great dead and in our left we take the bridal wreath woven by Britain's laureate poet for Britain's youngest princess. Our agent in London has cabled us the following lines on the marriage of the Princess Beatrice by Lord Alfred Tennyson, poet laureate

Two suns of Love make day of human life
Which else with all its pains and griefs and deaths
Were utter darkness; one the sun of dawn
That brightens through the mother's tender eyes
And warms the child's awakening world; and one
The later rising sun of spousal love,
Which from her household orbit draws the child
To move in other spheres. The mother weeps
At that white funeral of the single life,
Her maiden daughter's marriage; and her tears
Are half of pleasure, half of pain. The child
Is happy, ever in leaving home. But thou,
True daughter, whose all faithful filial eyes
Have seen the loneliness of earthly thrones,
Wilt neither quit the widowed crown, nor let
This later light of love have risen in vain,
But moving through the mother's home, between
The two that love thee, lead a summer life,
Swayed by each love, and swaying to each love,
Like some conjectured planet in mid heaven
Between two suns, and drawing down from both
The light and genial warmth of double day.

Dr W T Wright Cincinnati O sends the [illegible] professional statement I have prescribed DR. WM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS in a great number of cases and always with success One case in particular was given up by several physicians who had called me in for consultation with myself The patient had all the symptoms of confirmed consumption— cold night sweats, hectic fever harrassing coughs, etc He commenced immediately to get better and was soon restored to his usual health. I also found DR WM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS the most valuable expectorant for breaking up distressing coughs and colds.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING. EPPS'S COCOA. BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.
